

"When a preacher of the gospel, for the sake of achieving a sensational and ephemeral popularity, forgets his high calling and descends to the indulgence of ill-bred and vulgar personalities, a discriminating public rates it rank pharisaism. Crimes of all grades, violation of law, divine or human, sin in all forms, are proper subjects of treatise for the pulpit, which one can reasonably expect or object to; but this does not afford license or liberty to the pulpit to single out any individual and make him an object of attack; especially when the person attacked is, by the circumstance of distance, not in a position where he can answer or defend himself; and especially also when the shafts aimed might find as sure a mark near the archer, and where also the result of the effectiveness of the shot might be reduced to a minimum. What sport would do is to nominate first across the river when game in abundance is to be found at the length of his gun." —State Sentinel.

Those of our readers who will examine the extract from the sermon by Rev. Mr. Turner on our first page will at once recognize the injustice of the attack by Mr. John H. Bateman, cashier of the Dover National Bank, and Addicks' paid editor. Mr. Turner so fully and completely proves his right to speak that nothing but abuse of the minister is left the Addicks employe. Silence would have been far more becoming. We only regret that we had not the space for the entire sermon from the Delawarean as it fully sets forth what a good citizen should be, but our object was attained in the first part wherein the preacher shows that if the ministers of the gospel do not their duty then "the very stones will cry out."

We do not object to the reference made to Mr. Addicks in the sermon because we do not believe Mr. Addicks would object. To our knowledge he has never objected to any such advertising. He seems to think it is his glory. He took his first lessons in Delaware politics six years ago in procuring a charter of incorporation for his gas company and employed as lobbyists the present Chancellor, Zeke Cooper, Roll Kenney, and a lot of the boys who know a good thing when they see it. He has said the charter was worth in the commercial markets of the world a hundred thousand dollars. It cost him several thousand. He started in Delaware as a boodle candidate and we think if Mr. Addicks were at home the reference to him as such would be pleasing rather than displeasing and Mr. Bateman would not have been allowed to write such abuse of a minister. That is an excellent quality of Addicks; he seldom abuses; never, so far as we are aware. He brags. He claims the earth, but he would praise rather than censure a preacher of the gospel for doing his duty. It would be policy in him to do so and he would not lose his head as his subordinates often do.

The TRANSCRIPT has just one object in making extracts from the sermon and that is to bring it to the attention of as many other ministers as possible. Just such gospel truth should be preached in every pulpit in this State, only more. The preacher should go to the root of the matter and he will find that it would be today Senator Charles B. Long instead of Senator George Gray but for bribery at the primaries, the worst feature of the evil, not to mention the manner of Mr. Gray's first election. The preacher who seeks would find that the friends of Ambassador Bayard and of Chancellor Wolcott dispute the honor as to the authorship of the '73 assessment laws, the most unholy, unjust and iniquitous laws that ever disgraced a statute book. By means of them the will of the people is set at defiance and we have "the devil" right here in the form of this law, and nearly a quarter of a century contest in fighting this "devil with fire" has so hardened the people that they do not realize the enormity of the crime. Pope's lines were never more appropriate:

"Vice is a monster of such frightful mien,
As to be hated needs but to be seen;
But seen too often, it becomes a vice,
We then endure, then pity, then embrace."

We have endured; we have pitied we have embraced. To be sure the Democrats did it first, and so long that many of their peers look upon it as their special prerogative. Turn to their files and hear the out cry that was made by the Democratic papers in 1888 against bribery — by the Republicans. They were equally guilty, in fact furnished part of the boodle to defeat the "unitrue in Kent county."

In 1890 they carried the election in Kent and Sussex by bribery and force and those same Democratic editors, many of whose names are on the church records, had not a word to say against the evil. It is only when they lose that they set up a cry of "stop thief" to cover their own shame. They are a miserable set. Any men holding the relations to public matters that do the editors who excuse and tolerate every party wrong, are guilty of a crime against the State that unless the ministers of the gospel or some other equally worthy set of men, meet it, threatens the life of our institutions. We recognize this and we welcome most gladly the sermon by Mr. Turner. We thank the Delawarean for printing it though it knows full well that Democrats are the first and oldest and wickedest offenders in this direction. This is not said in palliation of the practice by Republicans. "Tell the truth and shame the devil" should have been the motto of the State Sentinel. It should have had the courage to point out the "game in abundance at the end of the preacher's gun." Nothing but the most radical remedy can ever effect a cure.

VALUE OF AN OPPOSITION PAPER.

The New Era has not yet found out whether it opposes the payment of the special constables by the Levy Court, opposes it sufficiently to do so through its columns, but the prodding of the

THE HYPOCRITE APPLAUDS.

As might have been expected, the State Chairman editor of Every Evening leaves off scratching long enough to brush up himself, put on a sanctimonious air, and say to Rev. Mr. Turner, "well done good and faithful servant." The sermon it is true is not sensational and is a manly plea for a more lofty citizenship, but until this consummate hypocrite repeats and acknowledges that he is one of the de-bauchers of the citizens of Delaware, that he was able to play his cards so neat, it last fall that he advocated a purity of election law—which by the way, failed, like lots of other things, in the Senate—and he would have been able to have answered the law "we—our committee—spent no funds and have no report to make." This is now his boast in his paper though the owner of the paper gave ten thousand dollars to this county should hold the Levy Court to a strict accountability in handling this matter. The opinion of an attorney whose interest are always with the "boys," should not be allowed to decide it. Were the fifty citizens who asked for these special constables? What was their service and who hold the vouchers for the services rendered? These are important questions. Are not others pushing these claims as political disorders? The prodding of the TRANSCRIPT has already forced the Dover Index and the Every Evening to raise a warning cry; they say "be careful how you act." They recognize the fact that the tax payers will not be trifled with and that in the TRANSCRIPT the tax payers have a friend who will stand firm against a world of error and an army of wrong in favor of the people. Of course it is to their interests to persuade Democrats that what is right will be done, but Democratic tax payers have had experience enough to know that unless they demand the right it will not be done. Now is the time to save ten thousand dollars to the State. Let it be done. Demand it of your Levy Courtmen.

Perhaps the Democrats who wondered what good there is in a Republican paper will find out now in the TRANSCRIPT. We propose to fight the people's battles let their opponents be who they may. If the ring illegally fastens this additional tax upon the people of New Castle county the TRANSCRIPT will cry aloud and spare not, and how hard blows the people will applaud the ring may discover to their regret.

CURRENT EVENTS.

There are 10,000 visitors in attendance at the Convention of the Baptists' Young People's Union Baltimore this week.

Gertie Anderson, aged 8 years, on Sunday flagged a passenger train on the Duluth, Mississippi & Northern railroad, near Grand Rapids, Minn., just in time to save it from plunging into a cave-in.

Four women were among the two hundred successful candidates admitted to the practice of law in New York June 15, and the report of the clerk of General Term, makes particular mention of the excellence of the papers of the four women. Three of them have the degree of L. L. B.

Secretary Hoyle Smith has declined to approve a request for pay for work done on Sunday by government employees.

Three examiners who were busied in the Helene (Mont.) and office asked that they be allowed their regular per diem allowance for the same, but the Secretary held that Sunday is not a day for labor and that he is not authorized to pay for work done on that day.

Eight of the leading members of the Seventh Day Adventists in Rhea county, Tennessee, who were fined for desecrating Sunday, refused to pay the fine, though quite able to do so, were sent to jail and are compelled to work out their sentences on the county roads. They have been put to work with the county convicts, and will have from 60 to 80 days service.

The lead is an old man 70 years old, and served his country three years as a volunteer in the civil war.

FROM OLD SUSSEX.

Several thousand baskets of peaches will be shipped from the Alms House Farm of this county this season.

Work has begun on the tabernacle at Rehoboth to be used at the Camp meeting. The seating capacity to be 1500.

The Methodists of Georgetown are considering the new church problem, and are holding between remodelling the old one or building a new one.

Fourteen children sent out by the Baltimore Fresh Air Fund, are being entertained for two weeks by some of the benevolent people of Seaford and vicinity.

Dr. Nathan Pratt of Milford has been appointed Statistical Agent of the Agricultural Department for the combined districts of Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey.

Governor Watson is building an addition to the storeroom in Milford occupied by C. D. Abbott & Co. This storeroom will be 100 feet long when the addition is completed.

Delightful One-Day Trip to Rehoboth Del., or Ocean City, Md.

On Thursday's, August 1, 15, and 29, a special train will be run by the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad Company to Rehoboth and Ocean City. A full day at either of these popular resorts will be allowed, and the lowest rates charged.

This trip affords an excellent chance to spend a day in bathing, sailing, and fishing with but a small expenditure of money.

The trains will run on the schedule and tickets will be as follows:

Local News.

—Wheat threshing is the event of this week on the farm.

—Peaches and apples and berries, berries are in the local market.

—The summer girl of '95 is quite as engaging as her predecessors, so they say.

—The Seventh Day Adventists will hold a camp meeting at Newark, beginning August 1st.

—There are already about forty families tenting in the camp meeting grove at Brandywine Summit.

—Mr. C. A. Johnson of Smyrna has been given the position of engineer at the Electric Light Station.

—The Presbyterian Sunday School of Port Penn will give an excursion to Woodland Beach, to-day.

—Will make low price on Beach Baskets in car-load lots. Address James A. Evans, Georgetown, Delaware.

—Beware of the women who gossip. The lips that utter idle, silly things, will soon learn to spit, wicked things also.

—E. T. Wood, Department Commander G. A. R. of Delaware, made an official visit to Post 22, Major John Jones last evening.

—With the editor sick and an employee going a fishing, naturally enough the paper is blue this week, but no doubt it will be read all the same.

—I am still writing Fire Insurance, competitors' yarns notwithstanding, and it will be to your interest to consult the rates of Continental Co.

W. R. REYNOLDS.

—It is estimated that from fifteen to twenty thousand baskets of peaches will be shipped from this station this season, so that the peach is not wholly extinct in this section.

—Mr. Clinton Hall has very greatly improved his residence on Crawford Street, by a pretty coat of paint with neat trimmings, which have changed its appearance wonderfully.

—Joseph Booth, a workman in the Jackson & Sharp shops in Wilmington, was struck by a board which he was planing, on Wednesday, and died from the injuries in a few hours.

—The Shirt Factory closes to-day for the annual vacation of two weeks during which time the building will undergo a thorough "housecleaning." The factory will be reopened August 5th.

—Business practice from the start is the splendid new departure at Godley Wilmington (Del.) Commercial and Short-hand College. If looking for a good place to attend school, send for its catalog.

—Mr. and Mrs. James Burnham have discontinued housekeeping, and are boarding at Mrs. Talbot's pleasant suburban home. Mr. and Mrs. George Hall will occupy the house on Crawford Street vacated by Mr. Burnham.

—Good early celery always finds a ready market at pricing prices. We have to offer "White Plume" plants now ready at 30 cts per 100 $1.00 per 1000, Circular free, Shlayerman and Son, Dover, Del.

—To welcome the coming and speed the parting guest, is now the order of the day for some are coming and some are going, and its "down the good bye lane, to the farewell gate, oh, my honey, my love."

—Bagging grapes has been the occupation of our local vine dressers lately, and many lusty vines have their fruitage already protected with paper bags, thus insuring perfect bunches when the purple harvest comes.

—The dead body of an unknown white man was found floating in the Christiansburg Saturday afternoon. The body was badly decomposed and without clothing. It is supposed that the unfortunate man was drowned while bathing.

—The Apostles of the Single Tax doctrine spoke in town on Friday night of last week, and in spite of the many interruptions and efforts to disturb them by a few, their Utopian gospel was heard by a large number of interested citizens.

—Mr. Jno. Morrison, an old resident and at one time the leading builder and contractor of this town, was stricken with Apoplexy Monday night and has been critically ill all the week. His condition was somewhat improved yesterday.

—Growing crops are looking well corn has made a very rapid growth in the last few weeks, the re-plant after the cut worm destruction in some instances outstripping the earlier planting. The oat crop in this section is the best in years.

—The swell young man has brought out his last summer's duck-trousers, but he has not grown to them yet. They are still a quarter of a yard or so too long, and he is wearing them turned up at the bottom. It may be well, but it is tail pretty.

—The M. E. Sunday School of St. Georges will make an excursion to Woodland Beach by steamer Thomas Clyde on Wednesday July 24th leaving Delaware City at 9:30 a.m. returning at 4 p.m. giving 5 hours on the Beach. Tickets 30 cts. Children under 12, 15 cts.

—A "Lawn Fete" and family party was given yesterday afternoon, in the beautiful park surrounding the country home of John P. Cochran Jr. Supper was served on the lawn, in true picnic style, and the affair was as enjoyable as it was novel and picturesque.

—Wages have been increased by the railroad authorities 10 percent, making the price per day for trackmen and laborers $1.10 per day, instead of $1.00 as heretofore. The increase was a voluntary one, it is said, by the company and affects all their out-door employees.

—Prof. A. Lee Ellis, of Millisboro, Sussex county, and a graduate of the Newark Public Schools on Monday, with the following teachers as assistants: Miss E. Fanny Medill, Miss Anna Newman, Miss Emma Choate and Miss Sallie Lumb.

—Rev. C. H. Vincent, for a number of years pastor of the Pencader Presbyterian Church as Glasgow, has resigned, to take effect August 25. He gives as his reason that owing to the decision of the attorney-general or comptroller. In politics those who ask receive, but those who open not their lips may languish in obscurity."

—That the advantages of Middletown, as a place of summer residence are being recognized, is seen in the number of persons who are summering here. Families from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and other places are domiciled here for the summer, but there is still room for more.

—Among the many Middletown visitors at Augustine Pier on Thursday, were Misses Edith and Louise Reynolds and their guests.

Mr. William Metten, Miss Mary Cochran, Mr. William Bradly, Misses Derrickson, Mr. Parker's family, Mr. Gray Taylor, Mrs. A. M. Brownie, Misses Beynes and Fred Crouch.

—Dr. Thomas H. Gilpin with the other members of Governor Watson's staff, had a delightful trip on the steamer Aurelia this week. The party were guests of Col. J. Ross. They started across the Chesapeake to the Potomac, but on account of a very heavy sea, were obliged to change their course and went up the Wicomico river to Salisbury.

—The housewife is busy making jellies, jams, and other preserves, and the summer air is laden with the appetizing odors of many delicacies. The summer months that bring vacation, rest and recreation to some only double the housewife's tasks, and from now until early autumn she will be laying up a store of delectable sweets for the winter.

The Church Camp, that has been in progress at Trinity U. M. E. Church, for the past two weeks, closed on Thursday night.

The meetings were well attended, the crowd on Sunday exceeding any previous attendance. The new pastor Rev. James Morris is to be commended for his efforts to teach his people a more rational religion than has hitherto characterized their worship, but they are slow to learn.

—Mr. Gremminger of Odessa is very successful in his culture, and the output of honey from his 82 hives this season is very gratifying. He has one hive which he calls the Boss Hive of the lot. He put a new swarm of bees in it the last week in May, and the first week in July he took from it three supers or cases, each containing 20 boxes filled with beautiful white honey, in all 72 boxes averaging nearly a lb. each.

—Major John Jones Post 22, G. A. R., has moved its headquarters to Reynolds Hall in Cochran Square where the members have arranged their belongings as cosily and conveniently as possible. But there are a few who manifest any interest in the Post, even among the members, that it is difficult to maintain the organization in an abiding place. The patriotic, social and fraternal spirit which it represents should keep it from the lack of funds, even though its members are mostly "poor old soldier boys."

—The Board of Education on Friday evening elected Prof. De Keler Stamey, of Lee's Cross Roads, Pa., Principal of the Middletown Public Schools. He is personally unknown to any of the Board, but his recommendations were such as to give very general satisfaction. He formerly taught in Temple College Philadelphia, and highly recommended by Rev. Russel Canwell and others. A letter of acceptance from Prof. Stamey was received by the Secretary on Wednesday. All the other teachers were re-elected, and the different departments will have the same efficient and careful instructors of the past year.
